CAMI is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization dedicated to the responsible and sustainable integration of advanced air mobility into communities by providing education, communication, and collaboration.

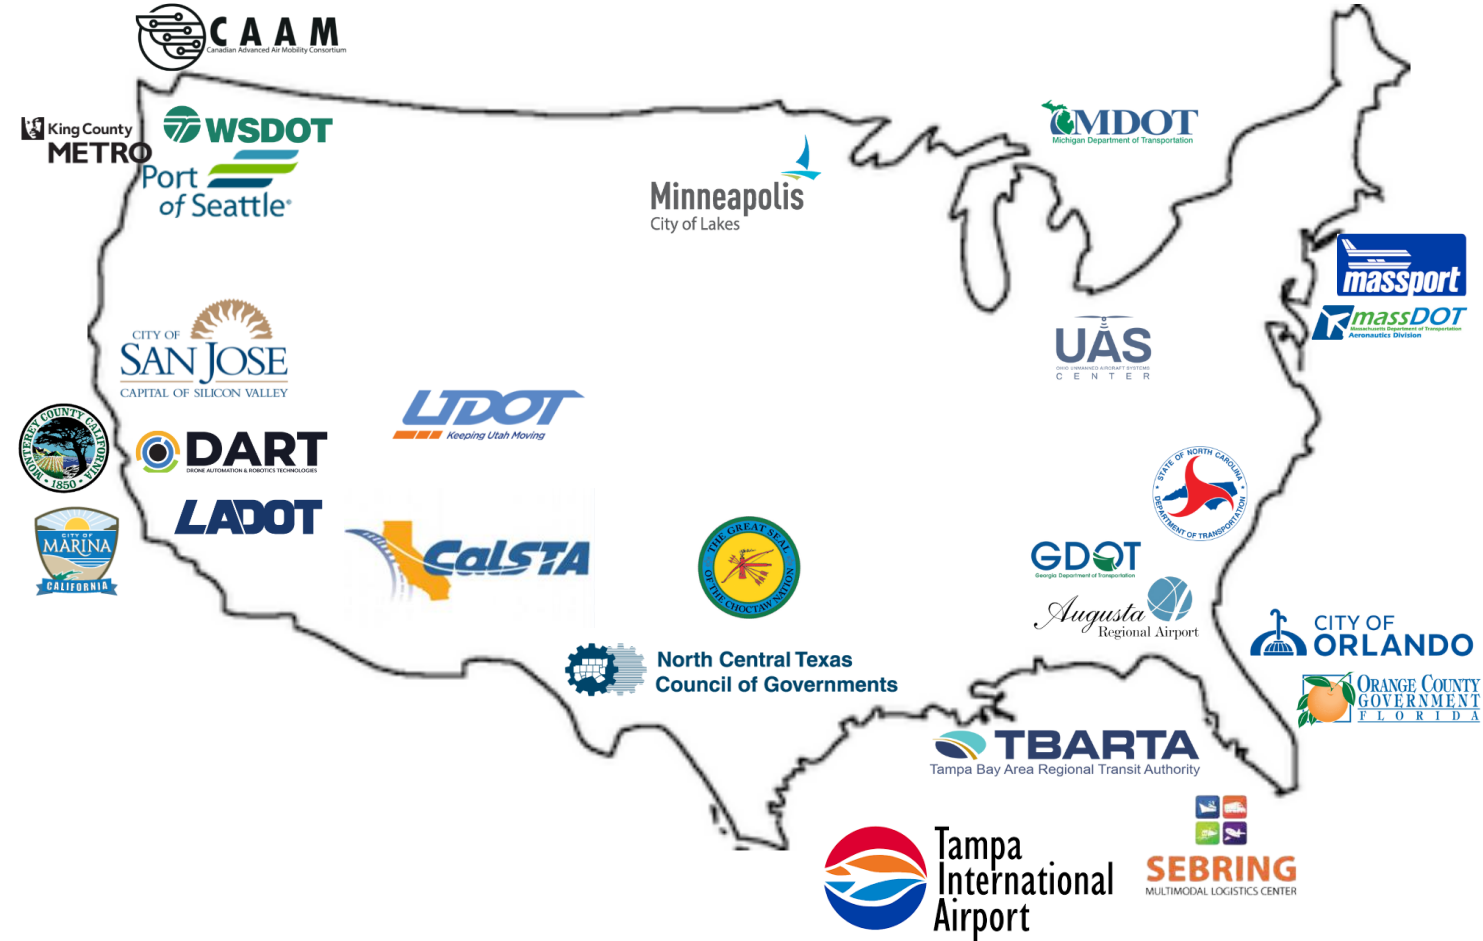

CAMI understands the importance of connecting communities and industry by working with all stakeholders to develop advanced air mobility that integrates with existing and future urban and regional transportation systems.

CAMI educates and equips state and local decision makers, planners, and the public with the information they need to set policies and design infrastructure and systems to successfully integrate aviation into daily transportation options.

The mission of the Urban Air Policy Collaborative is to develop a policy framework for the local implementation of advanced air mobility through the sharing of knowledge, discussion of issues, development of recommendations, and collaboration with peers through an ongoing program of workshops, presentations and conversations.

The UAPC has two programs – the Cohort and the Forum
